what YGLP ?

YGLP (Young Global Leadership Program) is an international leadership program for young people aged 13 to 25 years. Developed by Human Science Lab, London, the program aims to nurture young people into future global leaders.

The program is an outcome of world-leading research on human cognition, critical thinking, intelligence and leadership at Human Science Lab.

The Genesis

YGLP was conceptualized at Human Science Lab, London, in 2014. The objective was to come up with a path-breaking model that could be used across the globe to create a new generation of leaders who can push the limit of human accomplishments to new frontier and help make the world a better place to live.

The program was completed in December 2015 with support from a consortium of transnational organizations and foundations.

YGLP was first launched at University of Oxford in January 2016. It was subsequently launched at University of Cambridge, Stanford University, University of California, London School of Economics and several other Ivy League and Russell Group universities.

YGLP is administered in five regional formations as YGLP Europe, Asia, Americas, Africa and Oceania. Application for YGLP Asia is currently being considered while application for rest of the places would open from 2017 Fall.

the science behind YGLP

YGLP is based on the Four-Step Leadership Principle developed at Human Science Lab. The principle states that the leadership achievement of an individual is proportional to the optimal use of four principal components that makes a leader – motivation, planning, energising and executing.

YGLP is made of four core modules, each module focussing on developing one of the four leadership component as identified in the Four-Step Leadership Principle and a non-core module 'Curiosity & Questioning' meant to deepen the passion to explore and know.

YGLP Modules

The first YGLP module 'Thinking like a leader' trains a candidate in breakthrough techniques on disciplining the mind, motivating the mind, building right self-concept, and critical thinking.

The second YGLP module 'Planning like a leader' trains a candidate in goal-setting, role-model selecting, short-term & long-term planning, cultivating habits and feedback techniques.

The third YGLP module 'Energizing like a leader' trains a candidate in cultivating the body and mind of a leader through a cutting-edge model on nutrition, health-care, mind-fullness, stress management and resilience.

The fourth YGLP module 'Executing like a leader' trains a candidate in cutting-edge models on memory & learning, general and emotional intelligence, decision making, ergonomics and optimization.
